WOMEN UPSET BY KARATE SEX OFFENDER

We don't want him teaching our kids

PARENTS and sportswomen are upset a convicted rapist has been running martial arts tournaments for children.

Master kickboxer Paul Andrew Major, 36, (left) was convicted of raping a 23-year-old woman student after she was drugged. He has been involved in children's tournaments in Melbourne since his release from jail in 1997.

Sports groups yesterday called for new laws to license martial arts instructors and to oblige sex offenders to reveal their criminal records.

Worried parents said they would never allow sex offenders to teach their children if they knew of their history.
